KEY TO CATALOGING

DEFINITIONS

SPECIMEN: An archival printing sample of a finished item, such as a stock certificate, banknote or stamp that is printed usually with "000000" serial numbers and may have "Specimen" overprinted on it and be punch canceled to invalidate it and prevent its use surreptitiously. Specimens were kept for a number of reasons, though usually as samples to give out to prospective customers to give them an idea of the type and quality of the work that the printing company was capable of doing. Usually specimens were printed in limited amounts at the beginning of a printing run to evaluate the quality of the printing work and color combinations at an early stage, rather than have an entire production run rejected due to some minor flaw that was not found until after the printing was completed. A specimen is similar to the final product, printed on the same paper and in the same color.

COLOR TRIAL SPECIMENS: Sometimes specimens would be printed in numerous color combinations not used on the final note for evaluation before a final printing. These are usually extremely rare.

PROOF: An initial pull or impression from a plate or die for evaluation of text, vignette, engraving, and esthetic appeal and to check for any errors or faults. These were usually printed on india paper mounted on card or printed on some form of paper or light card. The amount of proofs printed is usually extremely small and usually number only a handful. Proofs allowed the printing company to evaluate the quality of the item being printed without having to go to the expense of making final plates and finding out small errors that could have been repaired at an earlier stage. Usually, proofs are single impressions of banknotes, stamps, vignettes, etc. Anything that was made into a plate, such as a sheet of 100 stamps could have had proof impressions taken from it. These would be called plate proofs (for multiple images) versus die proofs (usually of a single or small amount of images).

COLOR TRIAL PROOF: A proof printed in a color other than the issued color.

ESSAY SPECIMEN or PROOF: A proposed design that was not used but may be similar or even totally different to a final approved design. An artist, engraver or company may have proposed a number of different designs and color combinations to a client for his approval. If a design is rejected and never used, it could be called an essay.

PRODUCTION MATERIAL: Material found in files used in the production of security printed documents, banknotes, stamps and such. It may include correspondence, photographs, artwork, and signature samples, samples of other printed items that are marked up with corrections as well as proofs, specimens, essays, models, mockups and issued final items.

MODEL: A proposed or final design that may include original artwork, pieces of design elements such as borders, titles, vignettes, corporate seals, undertints and possibly portions of photographs. Before an engraved item was made, a design had to be decided on. This portion of the design process allowed for the artistic skills of the engraver or design department to be exhibited. Before the "digital age", banknote engravers and designers would cut up portions of other engraved items and re-apply them in a different form or design to come up with a unique new stamp, banknote or certificate. Often, all new engravings or "vignettes" of people or scenes would be engraved first to include in the new "work of art", and other times, portions of different completed items would be "borrowed" to use on a newly designed item. All models are rare and almost all of them are unique.

- 374 French Heredity Annuities Document from 1761 Granted by French King Louis XVI. France, 1761. Outer cover is printed in paper. Interior is the agreement printed on vellum. Multiple-page document in French regarding the payment of hereditary annuities granted by the French King Louis XVI and Parliament, which goes over terms and policies in great detail. Louis XVI was the last king of France before the fall of the monarchy during the French Revolution. He was referred to as Citizen Louis Capet during the four months just before he was executed by guillotine. Also mentioned in the text is Joseph Micault d'Harvelay, who was a Royal Treasury Guard and State Councilor at the time of the document. The subject of the document seems to be Marquis Etienne Auguste Baude, who was also a knight in the Royal Army. Fascinating financial piece of pre-Revolutionary France history, unique and rare. - 375 Direction de Tonnerre, 1779 Chevalier d'Eon Payment Document in French Paris, France, 1779. Typeset and handwritten document in French. Black stamp on back. Fine-VF condition. Document from the town of Tonnerre, in which the Chevalier d'Eon provided a payment owed. The Chevalier d'Eon mentioned in the document is Charles-Geneviève-Louis-Auguste-André-Timothee d'Eon de Beaumont (5 October 1728 – 21 May 1810), a French diplomat, spy, and soldier. He was born in Tonnerre into a minor aristocratic family, and later fought in the Seven Years' War. In 1756, he joined the secret network of spies called the Secret du Roi (King's Secret) employed by King Louis XV without the knowledge of his government, and d'Eon worked as a spy while in Russia and England. According to contemporary accounts, d'Eon had androgynous physical characteristics and natural abilities as a mimic and a spy. D'Eon appeared publicly as a man and pursued masculine occupations for 49 years, although during that time he supposedly infiltrated the court of Empress Elizabeth of Russia by presenting as a woman (an anecdote that is likely apocryphal). After a stint as a Captain in the French Dragoons, he was sent to London as a diplomat. He embraced London life and continued to spy for the King before falling out with a superior. D'Eon refused to return to France, and afterward claimed that Louis XV had instructed him to disguise himself as a woman and to hide in the city. There had long been rumors in both Britain and France that the Chevalier was a woman, which subsequently developed into intrusive public interest. Bookmakers in London even took odds on whether he was a woman or a man. Eventually, in need of money, he told a French diplomat, Pierre Beaumarchais, in 1775 that he was really a woman. Believing this, Beaumarchais managed to get him a pension, but d'Eon was ordered to return to France wearing women's dress. From 1777 on, the Chevalier began to permanently present as a woman. She spent some time at her family estate in Tonnerre due to a forced retirement, and she later returned to London in 1785. In 1792 her family's properties in Tonnerre were confiscated by the French revolutionary government. Despite her famous and remarkable life, d'Eon died in poverty in 1810 at the age of 81. D'Eon's body was buried in the churchyard of St Pancras Old Church, and any remaining possessions were sold by Christie's in 1813. D'Eon's grave is listed on the Burdett-Coutts Memorial there as one of the important graves lost. Fascinating piece of history from a groundbreaking figure. Est. $300-450

The Act was the first genuine national conscription law. The law required the enrollment of every male citizen and those immigrants (aliens) who had filed for citizenship, between 20 and 45 years of age, unless exempted by the Act. Substitutions were available throughout the war. The problem with substitution was that it provided substitutes with powerful incentives to desert soon after enlisting. Career "jumpers" made a living by enlisting as a substitute, collecting their compensation, deserting before their units were dispatched to the front, and repeating the process. The problem was well known to the military commanders who regularly saw the same recruits. In addition, troops furnished by substitution were considered to be of an inferior quality in comparison to regulars and volunteers. Rarely seen Civil War historical document..... Est. $600-900

Jackman, printed by N.Y. D. Appleton & Co. Jacob Perkins (9 July 1766 – 30 July 1849) was an American inventor, mechanical engineer and physicist. Born in Newburyport, Massachusetts, Perkins was apprenticed to a goldsmith. When he was twenty-one he was employed by the master of the Massachusetts mint to make a die for striking copper pennies bearing an eagle and an Native American. He soon made himself known with a variety of useful mechanical inventions and eventually had twenty-one American and nineteen English patents. Perkins created some of the best steel plates (as noted from English Engravers) for engraving, and started a printing business with engraver Gideon Fairman. Perkins made several important innovations in printing technology, including new steel engraving plates. Using these plates he made the first known steel engraved USA books (The Running Hand, school books, 8 pages each). He then made currency for a Boston Bank, and later for the National Bank. In 1816 he set up a printing shop and bid on the printing of currency for the Second National Bank in Philadelphia. His quality American bank currency attracted attention of the Royal Society, and he later formed a partnership with English engraver-publisher Charles Heath and his associate Gideon Fairman. Eventually the subsequent company came to be known as Perkins, Bacon & Co. Perkins Bacon provided banknotes for many banks, and foreign countries with postage stamps. Est. $80-160

- 770 William Bowyer Signed Manuscript Letter and Engraved Print, ca. 1740-60. England.... Lot includes 3 pieces: Handwritten and autographed manuscript from the 1740-60s, regarding weapons used in the Roman army, such as javelins and swords; Engraved print of Bowyer in VF condition with small piece missing from right margin; Additional piece of paper with details of Bowyer's life and work. William Bowyer (1699-1777) was an English printer. In 1729 he was appointed printer of the votes of the British House of Commons, and in 1736 printer to the Society of Antiquaries, of which he was elected a fellow in 1737. Bowyer was also a close collaborator with the prominent London bookseller Andrew Millar. In 1761 Bowyer became printer to the Royal Society, and in 1767 printer of the rolls of the House of Lords and the journals of the House of Commons. He died leaving unfinished a number of large works and among them the reprint of Domesday Book. He wrote a great many tracts and pamphlets, edited, arranged and published a host of books, but perhaps his principal work was an edition of the New Testament in Greek, with notes. He also edited the Greek-Latin Lexicon of Schrevelius. His generous bequests in favour of indigent printers are administered by the Stationers' Company, of which he became a liveryman in 1738, and in whose hall is his portrait bust and a painting of his father. He was known as "the learned printer." (Ex. John E. Herzog Collection)..... Est. $240-400

- 771 Dean G. Witter 1961 Letter with News Bulletin from 1990 Stating they will stay in the World Trade Center California... 1961. Letter from Dean Witter to William W. Conrad typed on Witter's personal letterhead regarding a tour and hunting trip of northern India with Indian Shikar & Tours, a service which Conrad had recommended previously. Dean G. Witter (August 2, 1887 – May 25, 1969) was an American businessman, stockbroker, and investor. With his brother Guy Witter and cousin Jean Witter, Dean Witter co-founded Dean Witter & Company in 1924, which became the largest investment house on the West Coast. In its early years, Dean Witter focused on dealing in municipal and corporate bonds. The company was highly successful in its first five years, purchasing a seat on the San Francisco Stock Exchange in 1928 and then opening an office in New York and purchasing a seat on the New York Stock Exchange in 1929. Although a relatively young company, Dean Witter survived Wall Street Crash of 1929 and the Great Depression, posting profits every year during the 1930s and into the 1940s. Dean Witter would lead his company until his death in 1969. In 1978 Dean Witter and Reynolds Securities merged to form Dean Witter Reynolds Organization Inc. (DWRO) in what was then the largest securities industry merger in U.S. history. The resultant company, Dean Witter Reynolds, was the fifth largest broker in the U.S. One year later Dean Witter Reynolds became the first securities firm to have offices in all 50 U.S. states and Washington, D.C. After completion of the merger, Dean Witter Reynolds generated revenue of more than $520 million. Est. $100-200

- 773 Letter from Thomas J. Watson to Willis K. Whitney Regarding George Eastman, 1931 Schenectady, NY..... January 12, 1931 Society of the Genesee, Inc.. Letter to Mr. Whitney (an American chemist and founder of the research laboratory of the General Electric Company) detailing a Society of the Genesee event honoring George Eastman and his contributions to film and celebrating his patents. Hand signed typed letter from Thomas Watson as president of the society. Thomas John Watson Sr. (1874 – 1956) was an American businessman. He served as the chairman and CEO of International Business Machines (IBM). He oversaw the company's growth into an international force from 1914 to 1956. Watson developed IBM's management style and corporate culture from John Henry Patterson's training at NCR. He turned the company into a highly-effective selling organization, based largely on punched card tabulating machines. A leading self-made industrialist, he was one of the richest men of his time and was called the world's greatest salesman when he died in 1956. The letter refers to an award dinner given to George Eastman, who was frequently approached to receive awards and honors that would have focused public attention on him, but invariably Eastman "escaped" these offers. His typical reply was this response to the Society of the Genesee, whose membership included most of his long-time friends and business associates: "I deeply appreciate the honor, and deeply regret that it is wholly impossible for me to accept such an invitation. ... I should be embarrassed beyond measure on such an occasion and do not feel that I could go through the ordeal." In April 1930, after Tom Watson took over as president of the Genesee Society, the salesman went to work and succeeded in convincing Eastman to attend. He wanted this great industrialist to receive the public recognition of his peers that he so richly deserved. The press documents that Watson made a personal trip to Rochester and "prevailed upon him [Mr. Eastman] to accept the honor" from the "twelve-hundred-member society." In June, the Society announced George Eastman's acceptance. The organization celebrated Watson's "noteworthy achievement" in overcoming Mr. Eastman's "ever-increasing desire to retire from the public eye," because everyone wanted to say thank you for the employment he had created locally, nationally and internationally, and acknowledge the estimated $80 to $100 million he had donated to worthy projects in his city, state, country and world. - 777 French East India Company Lot of 2 Pamphlet-Documents, 1749 and 1767 Pair. France..... Lot of 2 documents, Includes 1768 printed 3 page text booklet regarding the French East India Company and dealings with Parliament and the King of France; and, and 1749 pamphlet-booklet dealing with the establishment of the Hotel de la Compagnie des Indes à Paris, all in French. The French East India Company was a commercial Imperial enterprise, founded in 1664 to compete with the English (later British) and Dutch East India companies in the East Indies. The Company was not able to maintain itself financially, and it was abolished in 1769, about 20 years before the French Revolution. King Louis XVI issued a 1769 edict that required the Company to transfer to the state all its properties, assets and rights, which were valued at 30 million livres. The Hotel de la Compagnie des Indes à Paris is classified as a historic monument and today it houses the National Library of France. (2) (Ex. John E. Herzog Collection) Est. $200-400

- 778 French Ministry of War 1791 Discharge Certificate France..... 1791. Discharge Certificate issued to Antoine Lafond (31 years of age) by the French War Commissioner, allowing him to leave his cavalry regiment, the Royal Dragons (Dragoons). At top center is illustrated the French royal crest, and to the left is a red wax seal that is difficult to read and has some damage. The permanent discharge was approved by the commander of the Royal Dragoons regiment, David Maurice Champoulliès de Barrau de Muratel (1742-1827), who later went on to become a general in the French Royal Army during the Revolution. This document is fascinating because it was issued in February of 1791, when the turmoil of the French Revolution was well underway. As Lafond was a member of the Royal Dragoons, and this document was approved by the Lieutenant General of the King's armies, it is possible that this regiment saw, or went on to see, some action against revolutionary forces in this period. Very Rare and unique piece from Revolutionary-era France, enriched with military history. Est. $250-500

This piece describes the work, such as the stone foundations and railings, along with the corresponding prices given by contractor John Donell. This location in Manhattan no longer has a park, and must have been developed in the years following this survey. This piece provides a fascinating glimpse into New York City's past, before skyscrapers and modern developments, when there were more open spaces and parks. Rare. Est. $70-140

- 780 War of 1812 Letter written in 1814 Letter Regarding Payment for Soldier in the War. Winchester, VA. 1814 Letter from A. Gamble to Mr. Bailey, Paymaster, regarding payment owed to a company for action in the War of 1812. This document mentions "Power of Attorney" given to receive the payment, and is insistent on a reply. Mentions a Captain Baker, who may be Captain Isaac L. Baker, who was named Captain of the Forty-fourth Infantry in 1813, and assisted to enlist men for his regiment in Tennessee. During the late summer of 1814, he and a part of the Forty-Fourth joined General Jackson at Fort Jackson and accompanied him to Mobile. Fine-VF condition considering its age, with some toning and staining on the back. The War of 1812 was a conflict fought between the United States and its allies, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and its allies. It began when the United States declared war in June 1812 and ended in a stalemate when a peace treaty agreed to earlier was ratified by the United States in February 1815. While the war ended in a draw, both sides were happy with the outcome as the war ended, although indigenous nations are generally seen among historians as the real losers. Historians in Britain often see it as a minor theatre of the Napoleonic Wars while historians in North America see it as a war in its own right. From the outbreak of war with Napoleonic France in 1803, Britain had enforced a naval blockade to choke off neutral trade to France, which the United States contested as illegal under international law. To man the blockade, Britain pressed merchant sailors into the Royal Navy, including Americans. American sentiment grew increasingly hostile toward Britain due to incidents such as the 1807 Chesapeake-Leopard affair. The British were similarly outraged by the 1811 Little Belt affair, in which eleven British sailors died. Britain supplied arms to Native Americans, who raided European-American settlers on the American frontier, hindering the expansion of the United States and provoking resentment. Although the debate on whether the desire to annex some or all of British North America (Canada) contributed to the American decision to go to war, the reasoning for invasion was mainly strategic. President James Madison signed into law the declaration of war after heavy pressure from the War Hawks in the United States Congress. Fascinating piece of military history from the early 19th century. Est. $100-200

EPHEMERA - MINING NEVADA

- 781 Metropolis, Nevada ca. 1913 Town Lots and Farm Lands Pamphlet Pair & Goldfield Town Map Nevada. Lot includes 3 pieces: Metropolis Improvement Co., 1913 Metropolis, Nevada Town Lots pamphlet, with information on the town's properties, business facilities, and map; Pacific Reclamation Co., Metropolis, Nevada Farm Lands pamphlet with information on the area's location, soil quality, facilities, and terms of sale; and a 9 x 7.75 inch black and white map of Goldfield, Nevada, from the Patrick Investment Co. Today, Metropolis, Nevada is a ghost town in Elko County, Nevada, 12 miles northwest of Wells. During the early twentieth century, many homesteaders attempted to farm in the Great Basin, especially in western Utah but also in northeastern Nevada. Creating the town of Metropolis was the project of an eastern businessman, Harry L. Pierce of Leominster, Massachusetts, and of investors from both Massachusetts and Salt Lake City. During the second decade of the twentieth century, Pierce's Pacific Reclamation Company attempted to make the optimistically named Metropolis the center of a huge farming district. In an attempt to demonstrate permanence, the Company built the amusement hall, a post office, a school, a train depot, and a magnificent modern hotel, complete with an electric generator, central heating, and hot and cold running water in every room. A railroad spur was extended to the town site, and regular passenger service began in 1912. Superficially, the town seemed a success, but serious problems continued to plague the residents and farms. Pacific Reclamation declared bankruptcy in 1920. In 1922 the railroad discontinued service. By 1924, only 200 people remained. The amusement hall and hotel burned, and the last store closed in 1925, the post office in 1942. Est. $70-120

After serving as a representative and a senator in the Cherokee Council, he was elected Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation in 1903, defeating E. L. Cookson. Quitman, and the passing along of property to his heirs, such as Frederick Henry Quitman. Includes sworn oaths and additional details regarding the legal transfer of properties. John Anthony Quitman (September 1, 1798 – July 17, 1858) was an American lawyer, politician, and soldier. As President of the Mississippi Senate, he served one month as Acting Governor of Mississippi (from December 3, 1835 to January 7, 1836) as a Whig. He was elected Governor in 1850, as a Democrat, and served from January 10, 1850 until his resignation on February 3, 1851, shortly after his arrest for violating U.S. neutrality laws. He was strongly pro-slavery and urged the separation of Southern states into a new nation. Quitman was also a major general during the Mexican War. He owned 4 plantations, one of which was Live Oaks, located in Terrebonne Parish, Louisiana, which is named in this Estate document, and was passed onto his heirs. John A. Quitman died at his home, "Monmouth," near Natchez, Mississippi, on July 17, 1858, aged 58, apparently from the effects of National Hotel Disease, which he contracted during the inauguration of President James Buchanan. - 804 Bancitaly Corp., 1919 Specimen Stock Certificate, In 1928 it Acquired Bank of America California, ND (1920-1930s). 1919, OCS. VF condition, SBN. Amadeo Peter Giannini, or A.P. as he was known, established the Bank of Italy in 1904 in the North Beach district of San Francisco. He initially made his money as a commission merchant and produce dealer for farms in the Santa Clara Valley, but found banks uninterested in being in business with farms, so he decided to open his own bank. The business continued to grow and more branches were opened in the Central Valley. Giannini sought out customers in agriculture, with a focus on expanding the horticulture industry and small farmers. The bank became extremely profitable in the 1920s prior to the Great Depression. While President of the Bancitaly Corporation, Giannini never received a salary or other compensation. In 1926, Bancitaly's directors voted to reimburse Giannini with 5% of the corporation's annual net profits, a figure of $1.5 million. However, he refused to accept the money and asked that it be donated to help California's farmers. In February to April, 1928, Bank of America stockholders (Bancitaly Corp. being the principal stockholder) voted to reorganize as a national bank—the Bank of America National Association. Coleman Delafield, president) can expeditiously absorb the Bowery & East River National and the Commercial Exchange (which also last week went national). - 938 Calaveras Water and Mining Co., 1881 I/U Gold Bond. Calaveras, California. 1881, $1000 I/U 6% Gold Coupon Bond, Black on brown border, Hand signed by company president I. T. Marshall and secretary J. K. Southwick. Coupons No. 3 through 60 remain attached. Certificate is about 11.5" x 16". The property was located 3.5 miles north of Milton and included the Whiskey Hill gravel mine and a series of water ditches 21 miles in length. The Calaveras Water and Mining Company was organized in 1880 to mine placer gold from sands and gravels along creek and river beds in Calaveras County, California. The property was located about 3.5 miles north of the former mining camp of Milton, California and included the Whiskey Hill gravel mine and a series of water ditches over 20 miles in length. The ditches cost approximately $30,000 to construct and were supported by a series of reservoirs. Calaveras County is located between the North Fork of the Stanislaus River (to the south) and the North Fork of the Mokelumne River (to the north). Placer gold mining in the Sierra Nevada foothills near the towns of Murphy's, Molkumne Hill, Angels Camp, and San Andreas (Calaveras County) was booming at this time, either using sluice boxes or hydraulic methods using pumps and pressure jet hoses. From the 1850s until the end of the 19th century, this area was one of the richest of California's Mother Lode Gold Rush. The Calaveras Water and Mining Company was one of many companies in this area that were organized to mine gold by channeling water using ditches, canals, and flumes to various placer gold mining operations in the foothills. Hydraulic placer gold mining requires large volumes of water to separate gold from surface sands and gravels by running through a sluice box or other equipment to recover the gold. Calaveras County is best known for Mark Twain's story about the famous jumping frog contest. Franklin BNC. Est. $75-120

VF condition, Issued to Maurice Goodman and signed by Rodney D. Cliff as President, S/N -2182, ABNC. The Biograph Company, also known as the American Mutoscope and Biograph Company, was a motion picture company. It was the first company in the United States devoted entirely to film production and exhibition, and for two decades was one of the most prolific, releasing over 3000 short films and 12 feature films. Biograph's history dates back to 1895 when an inventor and nickelodeon film producer, W. K. L. Dickson, who worked at the Thomas Edison laboratory discovered a way to capture life on moving images film. After this discovery, Edison became disinterested in this new novelty. Dickson left Edison in 1895, to form the first company that solely focused on the production of moving pictures. This company was the American Mutoscope & Biograph Company. Biograph became the chief competitor to Edison and in 1896; the Biograph Projector showed the first projected images from an American film company to the first American movie theatre audience. Biograph was soon to become the leader in the new movie industry. 1908 marked a turning point in Biograph's history when D. W. Griffith, an actor, was hired to direct for them. Many early stars began with Biograph, such as Mary Pickford, Lionel Barrymore, and Lillian Gish. Under the direction of D. W. Griffith, Biograph's popularity and box-office receipts skyrocketed. Biograph innovated the close up, fade outs, dissolves and suspense editing but Biograph's main accomplishment was discovering a great "Little village" to shoot many of the Biograph films Hollywood, California. VF condition with toning, ABNC. The Maritime Canal Company was incorporated by an act of U.S. Congress in 1889 for the purpose of constructing a transisthmian canal through Nicaragua. When Congress incorporated the Maritime Canal Company, it excluded the government from any fiscal responsibilities. The project began on 23 March 1887, when Aniceto G. Menocal, a civil engineer with the U.S. Navy, negotiated an agreement with the Nicaraguan government that allowed his company to construct a canal within a ten-year period and to own it for ninety-nine years, after which it would revert to Nicaragua. Construction began at Greytown in 1889, and by 1893 the company had spent approximately $4 million on dredging the Greytown harbor, clearing the jungle, and other preliminary work. The project then collapsed owing to a lack of continued funding, corruption, and Nicaragua's political turmoil. Menocal's project officially came to an end in 1899, when the Maritime Canal Company defaulted on its contract. Rare early Panama Canal related stock certificate and first time offered by us. Huntington New Jersey, 1882. $1000 I/C 6% First Mortgage Gold Coupon Bond, Black text with orange underprint, Train passing by working farm and building at top center. POCs, VF condition. Signed by Collis Potter Huntington (1821-1900) as President. Huntington was an American industrialist, and was one of the Big Four of western railroading who invested in Theodore Judah's idea to build the Central Pacific Railroad as part of the first U.S. transcontinental railroad. Huntington then helped lead and develop other major interstate lines such as the Southern Pacific Railroad and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway (C&O), which he was recruited to help complete. The C&O, completed in 1873, fulfilled a long-held dream of Virginians of a rail link from the James River at Richmond to the Ohio River Valley. The new railroad facilities adjacent to the river there resulted in expansion of the former small town of Guyandotte, West Virginia into part of a new city which was named Huntington in his honor. Huntington, from his base in Washington, was a lobbyist for the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific in the 1870s and 1880s. The Big Four had built a powerful political machine, that he had a large role in running. He was generous in providing bribes to politicians and congressmen. Revelation of his misdeeds in 1883 made him one of the most hated railroad men in the country. In 1968, he was inducted into the Hall of Great Westerners of the National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum. Est. $70-140

CONDITIONS OF SALE

THE PLACING OF A BID SHALL CONSTITUTE ACCEPTANCE OF THESE CONDITIONS OF SALE

BIDDING

1. Unless announced otherwise by the auctioneer, all bids are per lot, as numbered in the printed Catalogue. Archives International Auctions, as agent for the consignor or vendor, shall regulate the bidding and shall determine the manner in which the bidding shall be conducted. Archives International Auctions reserves the right to withdraw any lot prior to sale (without liability to any potential purchaser or agent), to re-offer any withdrawn lot, to divide a lot or to group two or more lots belonging to the same consignor or vendor, and to refuse any bid believed not made in good faith. Estimates of sales prices contained in the printed Catalogue reflect the best judgment of Archives International Auctions and are not minimum or upset prices.
2. (a) Bids shall be made in the steps set forth in paragraph 12.
(b) The highest bid acknowledged by the auctioneer shall prevail. Should a dispute arise between bidders (including a dispute between a floor bidder and the auctioneer acting on behalf of a mail bidder, consignor or vendor), the auctioneer alone shall determine who the successful bidder is and whether to reoffer the lot in dispute. Should a dispute arise after the sale, the auctioneer's sale records shall be conclusive. On all lots sold, a commission of 20%* on the hammer price is payable by the buyer to the auctioneer (*See exceptions on next page for bids on internet).
3. (a) The auctioneer reserves the right to bid on behalf of clients (and consignors or vendors) but shall not be liable for errors and omissions in executing instructions to bid, however received, and whether such errors or omissions be those of the bidder or agent or those of the auctioneer.
(b) Lots may be offered subject to a reserve price. The auctioneer may implement such reserve price by bidding on behalf of the consignor vendor.
(c) It may also be assumed that all consignors have been advanced monies against the sale of their consigned material and Archives International Auctions therefore has a security interest in the consigned material over and above the normal auction commission.
(d) Purchases made by a consignor or vendor or his agent on his own lots shall be considered as a sale subject to commissions and sales tax as applicable.
(e) Agents are responsible for the payment of the purchase price for all purchases made on behalf of their clients, unless other arrangements with the auctioneer have been confirmed in writing prior to the auction.

PAYMENT FOR PURCHASES

4. Payment for lots, including those on which opinions are desired (Condition of Sale 8), shall be as follows:
(a) Floor Bidders. Payment of the purchase price, or such part thereof as Archives International Auctions shall require, shall be made by the purchaser in cash or bank or certified check or in such other manner as Archives International Auctions may determine. The name and address of the purchaser of each lot shall be given to the auctioneer immediately following the sale of such lot.
(b) Mail Bidders. A successful mail bidder will be notified of lots purchased. Before Archives International Auctions will send such lots, payment in full must be received by Archives International Auctions within three (3) business days of receipt of the aforesaid notification by the mail bidder. However, a purchaser known to Archives International Auctions at its option may have purchases delivered or forwarded for immediate payment (by a dollar draft on a U.S. bank in the case of overseas purchasers). Mailed delivery will be to the address on the bid sheet and proof by Archives International Auctions of receipt of a sending at the advised address shall constitute delivery. All charges for handling, delivery and insurance obtained by Archives International Auctions on behalf of the purchaser shall be added to the purchase price; a minimum charge of $10.00 will be made. Risk of loss in transit shall be on the purchaser.
5. Title shall not pass to the purchaser until full payment has been received by Archives International Auctions as agents for the consignor or vendor.

6. (a) Purchasers agree to pay for lots as specified in Condition of Sale 4 (or as the same may be modified by Condition of Sale 8), and no credit is extended; a late payment charge of 2% per month or fraction thereof shall be added if payment is not made in accordance with the aforesaid conditions.
(b) In the event that a bidder shall fail to comply with these Conditions of Sale ("Non-Complying Bidder"), then, as to any lot with respect to which such failure to comply occurs, Archives International Auctions may, in its sole discretion, re-offer such lot during the same auction or at an auction at a later time, or by private treaty at such time as Archives International Auctions, in its sole discretion, deems appropriate and the Non-Complying Bidder shall be liable for the deficiency, if any, between the hammer price and the net proceeds of a sale to a subsequent purchaser, whether at auction or by private treaty, as well as for all costs and expenses of both sales, all other charges due thereunder, including commissions with respect to both sales, whether payable to Archives International Auctions or to a third party and all incidental damages. It shall be in Archives International Auctions' sole discretion to determine whether to re-offer the lot theretofore hammered-down to a Non-Complying Bidder at the same auction, or by private treaty in due course, or at a subsequent auction conducted by Archives International Auctions. In no event shall any surplus arising from the sale of a re-offered lot be payable to a Non-Complying Bidder.
(c) A defaulting purchaser shall be deemed to have granted Archives International Auctions a security interest in property in Archives International Auctions possession owned by such purchaser.
